

Loss Prevention Solution Framework

Loss Control Executives need to have precise data on monitoring losses and minimizing risk. With establishing budgets based on loss prevention potential and implementing service based agreements the 'Loss Control/Prevention Department' becomes an invaluable asset to the organization. A smart system that selects policy holders for service based on loss prevention potential as well as improving the workflow of the Loss Control operations is a necessity.

In a nut shell, a Loss Control department needs a next-generation system that will select, assign, and measure the results of company's loss control efforts.
